LAMBS REHEARSAL LASTS ALL NIGHT

Everything and Everybody Ready Now for Public Gambol To-night.

INA HAYWARD TO VAMP

F. Ziegfeld, Jr., Turns His Attention to Publishing as a Side Line.

Only the fact that they are going to play in the Lambs public Gambol in the Manhattan Opera House to-night made a lot of actors get up at all to-day, for they had to put in some hard licks resting the old muscles and gray matter after a rehearsal for this production which was called at 11 o'clock last night by William Collier and was destined to end this morning long after even the players' early retiring hours. Shepherd R. H. Burnside announces that the box office will be open for barter from noon on to-day.

Oscar Shaw, recently of "Leave It to Jane," is the latest immigrant to the New Amsterdam Roof. His entrance into the stamping ground of the "Nine O'Clock Revue" and the "Midnight Frolio" to-morrow night will be watched

The Naughty, Naughty Chorus. Ailan K. Foster, who is staging the dance numbers for "Bing, Bang, Boom," being soft from the heat, released the forty suffering members of the chorus, but instead of shedding their ennul at the beach or an amusement park they were unable to resist the lure of "29 East" at the Broadhurst, It roughened up the feelings of the director, who swears he'll never release them again in Turkish bath weather, but it was a windfall for the press agent, enabling him to fall for the press agent, enabling him to mention both attractions. The company that produced "Take It

From Me." not satisfied with what it has already done, has engaged ina Hay-ward, through Chamberlain Brown, to ward, through Chamberlain Brown, to replace Ver Michelena next season as the latest wriggle in stage vampires. Joseph M. Galtes, mannging director of the company, has shouldered a five year contract upon Fred Hilderbrand, the eccentric comedian now running wild in centric comedian now running wild in the musical comedy.

F. Ziegfeld, Jr., has embarked extensively in the publishing business, it appears, for in addition to a visitors' book installed on the New Amsterdam Roof the house of Ziegfeld has just issued "The Midnight Moon," designed for periodical excretion. It is an eight page paper, book size, printed in two colors, labeled "a spasmodical devoted to the 'Nine O'Clock Revue,' the 'Midnight Frolic' and the 'Ziegfeld Follies' and claiming the largest roof garden circulation in New York. An editoriah leader in the first edition, written by the producer-publisher and entitled "A New Idea in Entertainment," is made to hit ldea in Entertainment," is made to hit hard with pictures of Ziegfeld beauties. More than 100 members of the alumni of New York University will be convoked at to-morrow night's performance of "I Love You," the farce comedy by Fellow Alumnus William Le Baron in the Forty-eighth Street Theatre, in order to sit in Judgment on the question whether New York University is a stimulus to the theatre.

Carol Gayly Beats the Ponies.

Now that Belmont Park has reopened one may expect to be deluged with stoone may expect to be deluged with stories like this which David Wallace sends out about Carol Gayly, who recently jumped from thraidom in St. Louis to a job as a slave girl in "East Is West." While exercising at the racetrack recently Miss Gayly decided the vital thing in life would be to place some of William Harris, Ir. a hard sarred cost, on a Harris, Jr. e, hard earned cash on a horse, and picked a spry old dear named Melodrama, for the sufficient reason that is name suggested a possible spiritua

She loaded Melodrama down with a $5 bet for "place," which she took to mean that she would get her money back if the horse didn't drop out of the race. It happened that two other horses did drop out, being scratched before the race, and that a jockey on a third also dropped out over the water jump. With two horses left, the curtain falls to denote the passing of the last lap. I bling in to avoid sunstroke, ten minutes behind the winner but still a strong contender for second place, and Miss Gayly setting out homeward with all the riches of Ind—that is to say, $14.

Joe Flynn, who is courageous, as any one can tell from his name, touches off

"Arthur Hammerstein and his general manager, Hugh A. Grady, were laying out the new season's route of the No. I Tumble In' show, when they decided to open in Shenectady. Accordingly, Grady wrote out slowly on the sheets, 'S-k-a.'

and then he stopped.

"How do your spell that town, anyway" he asked. Hammerstein began, 'S-e-k,' and then broke off with, 'Well, never mind, we'll open the show in

PRAISES ARMY BUG SQUAD.

Ireland Says Trench Fever Mystery Was Solved Through Them. PHILADELPHIA, June 7 .- A company of soldiers who faced death in a "battle once, Broadway, July 1 and one thing of the bugs" to save the American Army in France from trench fever was praised to-day by Surgeon-General Mer-ritt W. Ireland at the Jefferson Medical College ninety-fourth commencement. A class of 142 new physicians was graduated. The degree of doctor of laws was conferred upon Gen. Ireland and Vice-Admiral Gleaves.

The "unsung heroes," the Surgeon-General explained, submitted themselves as volunteers for experiments with disease bearing cooties to determine the cause of trench fever. The men survived the experiments, Surgeon-General Ireland said:

Ireland said: "As a result of the experiments with his volunteer group of coldiers we learned that trench fever is transmitted by the bite of this insect. This led to the elaborate delousing plants." In a review of work in Porto Rico to eliminate the hookworm the Surgeon-
